

Designed by Steven Sabados of S&C, this sophisticated four-light linear island chandelier from the Juna collection features columns of natural travertine that provide a rich, organic texture. The fixture is anchored by a sleek plated brass linear canopy and matching hardware, offering a warm and refined contemporary aesthetic. At the heart of each light, a white inner glass globe is elegantly encased within a tea stain outer glass shade to create a soft, multi-dimensional glow. This design masterfully blends raw stone elements with polished metal and glass to serve as a luxurious focal point for a kitchen island or dining table.
